11. NET ASSET VALUE PER SHARE AND LOSS PER SHARE

Net asset value per share

The net asset value per share is calculated by dividing the net assets included in the condensed consolidated statement of financial position of approximately HK$1,086,760,000 (31 December 2021: approximately HK$1,272,262,000) by the number of shares in issue as at 30 June 2022, being approximately 1,392,882,000 (31 December 2021: approximately 1,350,005,000) shares.

Loss per share

The calculations of the basic and diluted loss per share are based on:

Weighted average number of ordinary shares for the purpose of diluted loss per share calculation	1,362,318*	1,356,560*

* No adjustment has been made to the basic loss per share amount for the six months ended 30 June 2022 and 2021 because the diluted loss per share amount is decreased when taking the outstanding share options into account, so the outstanding share options had an anti-dilutive effect on the basic loss per share amount. Accordingly, the diluted loss per share is same as the basic loss per share.

PROSPECT

COVID-19 is still not over yet but many countries have relaxed epidemic prevention measures, as the perception of the health risk of the virus has reduced, particularly for vaccinated populations. The global economy has started to recover with trade and investment reaching higher levels in 2021 than prior to the pandemic. However, geopolitical tensions between major nuclear powers have escalated dramatically, which could have a serious impact on the world economy. The war in Ukraine has been lasting for 6 months and a peaceful resolution is not foreseeable in the near future. Increasing fuel and food prices have caused higher inflation around the world. Tensions, already very high between the United State of America ("US") and China over Taiwan, were exacerbated by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's visit to Taiwan. Although a military conflict over the issue is unlikely in short term, the tense relationship between the US and China over Taiwan will be the main risk for Asia in the year ahead. Under such highly uncertain investment environment, the Directors will take prudent strategies to manage our portfolio.
